Dear Pastors and Co-Labouers in Christ,

*And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.
Luke 2:10,11*

Greetings during this most wonderful time of the year. We want to wish each of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We are reminded during this season of the greatest gift a person can receive, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. I am so glad that He saved me on March 26, 1982 giving me the gift of eternal life. It is amazing that we can share these good tidings that others also may have this blessed gift.

After cutting down a tree recently and finishing with the clean up of remaining branches left in the yard, a man came walking down the sidewalk heading towards town. He asked about the wood which led him to ask about my accent and what we were doing here. His language had something to be desired with his use of choice words, up until the point of learning I was a pastor. I was able to witness to him and give him a tract. It was interesting his willingness to talk until the gospel was given. Please pray for Tim. We never know what seed may take root, there are never accidental meetings.

I met Victoria while out door knocking. She was cordial and somewhat open, allowing me to share the gospel with her on the front porch. Even though she didn't get saved, the seed was planted. If we ever plan to get a harvest later, the seed has to be planted first. I know we would like to plant and harvest at the same time, myself included, but it doesn't work that way. Especially ground that hasn't been cleared, prepared then tended.

As you know, winter has arrived here along with the snow. After the first 2 shovelings of snow, I had a relapse of my previous injury, nerve compression in my neck causing relentless pain down my arm. I would greatly appreciate your prayers in this regard. Joseph and Tabitha have been coming in to help us out with the snow which is a blessing and I'm thankful for.

Please continue to remember our church folks, we are preparing now for our Christmas dinner and are always in hopes of some visitors. With winter now here upon us visitors become sparse.

As this year draws to an end we want to once again thank each of you for your faithfulness and the love and kindness you've shown to us for so long now. We pray the Lord will bless you all this season and always.

Because of Christ,
Randy Broadstreet
